Opis produktu

The 2.5mm chassis made from harder graphite material was developed for very-high traction conditions, or when using tires that offer a lot of steering which makes the car more difficult to drive. This chassis makes the car more stable and easier to drive, and eliminates oversteering.

The super-narrow chassis allows for maximum traction while having excellent steering and cornering speed. The chassis has ideal torsional stability to help eliminate the "scrub effect" in high-speed corners.

Chassis allows to adjust the wheelbase of the front suspension. The chassis features 3 wheelbase alternatives. Standard wheelbase and +/- 4mm.
